

DOE's Experience at Other Sites

DOE has successfully built and operated on-site waste disposal facilities at a number of sites, including these:

- Weldon Spring, MO, near St. Louis, now part of a recreation area
- Hanford, WA, which remains an active DOE facility
- Oak Ridge, TN, which remains an active DOE facility
- Fernald, OH, near Cincinnati, which is now part of a nature preserve

The Fernald Site was closed in 2006.